

WHY WE PROCRASTINATE WHILE WE LEARN.

BY LUCKY

It's very rare in a dozen everyone wants to learn but due to some distraction. We lose our vision and hope towards our career and keep procrastinating. The best thing about defer is that we know we delay but after that we won't be able to get rid of it. The big reason for procrastination is to make big plans, goals which we can't accomplish on time that leads to procrastination. You might be thinking about why I'm writing this or what I want to convey. Please stay calm and I bet you won't procrastinate anymore in your life. Because the same thing happened to me in that circumstance I didn't know what to do. So I forget about all my dreams, achievements and whatever I wanted to do. From the day I observed all the things about me. Then I started not to think about anything. Just put hands into what you like to do and then you will find you have done lots of things without planned and being wary. The best aspect I learned about learning is to learn whenever possible. Don't assign any specific time to learn something new and to hone your skills. I think most people have not thought why procrastinating becomes too large day by day. The phrase I've read reveals itself "What you focus on Expands". This phrase is somehow related to the entire topic. So, we focused or spent our most time thinking about procrastination. Instead of doing or started. If you want to learn something not to see it as a burden or problem. So think one only thing why it's for or what I'll do to get it. Most of the time we don't know what to learn because we haven't seen what courses are available for us or what is good for us. I hope this blog will help you to thrive.
